

Beck's Visit Vindicates Eden

Top—Anthony Eden attempted to unite the democracies against the dictatorships, but lost out to Neville Chamberlain and his policy of appeasement. Today, as Col. Josef Beck (right) Poland's foreign minister, visits London to strengthen ties between the two powers, Britain has accepted Eden's policies and is attempting to stop Hitler by encircling him with her allies.

Below—Here is a picture of the chain, link by link, with which the democracies are trying to halt the fuhrer. This is the chain which Hitler angrily denounced Saturday in his address at Wilhelmshaven.

"Stop Hitler" Forces Given
Edge in Land, Sea Strength

Rome-Berlin Axis Superior In Air, But Doubtful In Resources For Long Struggle

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Europe's new "Stop Hitler" lineup unites imposing land and sea forces but in the air, American experts said today, the most authoritative figures give the Rome-Berlin axis superiority.

Further, in the number of troops actually under arms, Germany and Italy together are shown by official reports to possess greater immediate striking power.

It is in trained reserves, naval might, and resources for a long struggle that an alliance of Great Britain, France and Poland appears to some experts to be better equipped—excluding the possibility of aid from Soviet Russia, Roumania or other nations.

Peril From the Air
Because of the aerial armadas of Germany and Italy, Paris and London would be in effect "hostages," subject to the peril of destruction in the event of war, in view of Major Gen. George H. Lynch, American chief of infantry, other authorities said, however, that this would not decide the outcome of a major conflict.

"SUNDAY BEER"
BATTLE WAGED
IN E. PALESTINE

Legal Technicality Holds
Up Action On Dry
Amendment

RIVAL SPOKESMEN
HEARD BY COUNCIL

Varied Aspects of Beer
Business Criticized
And Defended

EAST PALESTINE, April 5.—While Solicitor L. J. Turner studied the legal aspects of an amendment to the city ordinance controlling the Sunday sale of beer, residents of East Palestine today debated the question of whether beer taverns should be allowed to remain open on the Sabbath.

Arguments for and against the Sunday closing have provided an issue for several weeks as a result of an amendment introduced to city council.

The amendment was written to require all beer taverns to close from midnight Saturday until noon Sunday, but it was later changed to make the closing hours from midnight Saturday until 6 a. m. the following Monday.

Council was to have heard final reading of the amendment at its meeting early this week, but the action was delayed when the measure was tabled until Solicitor Turner makes a decision on a legal technicality.

Councilmen felt they would be in error in acting on the second amendment which distorted the original amendment to which it was attached. Thus the measure was tabled until all legal aspects are cleared.

The decision to table the amendment until the next meeting came after opponents and friends of the all-day Sunday ban had been heard. Nearly 50 local residents crowded council rooms to enliven the session with arguments for and against.

Rev. J. T. Vorhis, speaking in behalf of the East Palestine Ministerial association, covering seven Protestant churches with a combined membership of 2,000, offered support for the amendment.

The clergyman's plea was concerned chiefly with the problem of regulation, based on the belief that there is a growing sentiment in the state and nation for prohibition.

"An increasing number of people are getting disgusted with things," he said.

"Bills pending in the state legislature show a definite trend for rigid regulation of the liquor traffic," Rev. Vorhis added.

Clyde Brittain, spokesman for the Men's class of the Methodist Episcopal church, urged passage of the amendment in order to give the city "one day a week in which the sale of intoxicating liquors would be banned."

Britain declared that existing beer taverns are more degrading than old-time saloons, pointing out that beer is sold in restaurants and other business places dealing in food, gasoline and other essentials, thus bringing young people in constant contact with such beverages.

T. D. Brown expressed the opinion that 50 percent of the residents of East Palestine are in favor of the amendment. He added, however, that no member of the group he represented had applied any sort of pressure to change previous stands taken by council members on the measure.

Frank Howard, Sr., a beer tavern operator, said it was his aim to operate a clean, decent business in keeping with state laws. "He who is without sin, let him cast the first stone," the beer tavern proprietor said in opposing passage of the amendment.

Church Rolls Grow
During Lent Period

Fifty-eight new members have been received into the First Baptist church during the Lenten season, according to a report given by Rev. S. Talmage Magann, pastor, at a meeting of the board of deacons last night.

Of the 58 new members, 50 are candidates for baptism, Rev. Magann said. About 25 members of the Salem group attended. Conrad Lodge of that city served lunch after the meeting.

The regular meeting of Perry lodge will be held tonight at the temple.

Mark Harrell Annmary Dickey Edward Johnson
Climaxing a 26-week search for new operatic talent, Miss Annmary Dickey of Decatur, Ill., and Mack Harrell, formerly of Greenville, Tex., are the two young singers chosen for contracts with the Metropolitan Opera company of New York. The award also included a check for $1,000 and a silver plaque each. Edward Johnson, director of the Metropolitan, is seen congratulating them.

GIVE UP PLANS OF ANNEXATION

Leetonia Withdraws Petition As Township People Object

LEETONIA, April 5.—Village authorities this morning abandoned plans to annex a portion of Fairfield township, a proposal which has been considered for the last two years.

The petition requesting annexation was withdrawn at the courthouse in Lisbon today. A hearing on the proposition, scheduled Tuesday, was dropped.

At a hearing in January a group of citizens of the township, as well as some from the village, voiced protest over the proposed annexation.

The area which was to have been taken into the corporation included about 55 homes and the factory of the Crescent Machine Co. The plan was opposed because of a higher tax rate.

Perry Team Confers
Degree at Alliance

Frank West, master, and other officers of Perry lodge No. 185, F. & A. M., conferred the Entered Apprentice degree on a class of candidates at the Alliance lodge meeting last night.

About 25 members of the Salem group attended. Conrad Lodge of that city served lunch after the meeting.

The regular meeting of Perry lodge will be held tonight at the temple.

Members will hold their annual reunion in connection with the annual inspection of the lodge on Wednesday evening, April 19. The meeting and reunion will feature a dinner at 6:30.

Warmer and Wetter Weather
Is Prediction Of Copeland

Columbiana county farmers won't have to worry about any drought this summer if the predictions of Weather Observer L. H. Copeland are fulfilled.

Copeland, from his Millport station, reports that "we are in a cycle of warmer and wetter weather conditions which should continue throughout the year."

The underground water supply, he reports, is the best in several years following a month of precipitation which was the best for any March since 1933. The rainfall totaled 4.87 inches. The year is now ahead 2.75 inches in precipitation and 9.6 degrees in temperature.

Although not much progress has been made with outside operations on the farm, or the growth of vegetation, the weather expert finds fruit prospects, as well as the wheat crop, promising.

The outlook for April is normal or above normal temperature, with plenty of sunshine and a favorable moisture situation.

An absence of snow is noted for March as Copeland reviews the

Hold Chicagoan for
Dyer Act Violation

William Thomas Cochran, 20, of Chicago, Ill., arrested on a charge of auto theft by State Patrolmen James White and R. K. Jones late yesterday afternoon, was turned over to federal authorities for violation of the Dyer act.

Cochran, now held in city jail, was stopped by the officers on Route 30, nine miles north of East Liverpool. He was driving a stolen car. The youth, the officers said, admitted stealing the car, owned by Robert F. Finan of Cleveland, in Chicago, several days ago. He threw away the Ohio plates, stole a set of Illinois licenses and headed eastward.

The theft of a car and the act of taking it across a state line constitute a violation of the Dyer act and it will be up to federal agents to prosecute the case, Corp. W. E. Arey said.

Election Planned
By Junior C. of C.

Officers, for the annual election next month, will be nominated at the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Memorial building.

The meeting will be attended by William Corry of Alliance, state Jr. C. of C. president. A lunch will be served. Plans for the Easter dance April 21 also will be discussed.

Accuse Motorist
Of Manslaughter

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 5.—Coroner Arnold Devon this morning preferred a manslaughter charge against Harry Johnston of East Liverpool, driver of the car in which George Wurzel, also of East Liverpool, was killed when the car rammed into the rear of a truck last week.

HUNT ABDUCTOR
OF AUTO DRIVER

Police Find New Springfield Man's Car, Later, In Youngstown

Herman Witmore of New Springfield was abducted in his own automobile last night by a man who forced him to drive, at the point of a gun from Youngstown to the vicinity of Route 14, four miles northwest of East Palestine.

The victim told Deputy Sheriffs Chris Pusey and Otto Stacey, who investigated, that the man jumped on the running board of his car as he was driving out of Youngstown, pulled a gun and ordered him to drive on.

According to the officers, the gunman did not attempt to rob or harm Witmore, but made him get out of the car later on Route 14.

Witmore's car was found by police at 2:15 a. m. near a Youngstown beer garden. The owner of the car was taken to Youngstown in an attempt to identify several men who were in the place but failed to do so.

He described his unwelcome passenger as being 25 or 26 years old, weighing about 145 pounds and dressed in a dark hat and grey overcoat. The man, he said, spoke with a southern accent.

Officers believed the thief stole the car to stage a holdup, then changed his mind and abandoned the machine.

Kelly Is Re-elected
As Chicago's Mayor

CHICAGO, April 5.—Mayor Edward J. Kelly, re-elected by a decisive margin, went back to his city hall desk today for another four-year term while party chieftains studied the election results for a tip on the coming presidential contest.

Climaxing one of the strangest mayoralty campaigns in Chicago's history, the veteran Democratic leader defeated his youthful Republican opponent, Dwight H. Green, by approximately 180,000 votes.

Complete but unofficial returns gave Kelly 820,517, Green 637,107, and Arthur P. Reilly, third, party candidate, 4921.

Physicians of Ohio
To Meet In Toledo

Among many Columbiana county physicians expected to attend the 93rd annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical association in Toledo May 3 and 4 are Dr. John A. Frazer, East Liverpool, and Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leetonia, official delegate and alternate of the Columbiana county society.

The officers of the county group, Dr. Roy C. Costello of East Liverpool, president, and Dr. J. W. Schoenic of East Liverpool, secretary, will also attend.

Committee Is Directed To Continue Its Investigation

Several weeks ago the safety committee of city council distributed 150 questionnaires regarding the proposal to install parking meters in the downtown section.

Last night at council meeting the committee, composed of Charles Rheutan, chairman, Charles Renkenberger and John C. Litty, reported that 42 questionnaires had been filled out and returned, 26 persons voting "No" to the suggestion, 15 "Yes" and another uncertain. The committee was instructed to continue its investigation.

A cross-section of the views of the persons interviewed may be seen in the following comments:

Voting "Yes" to the proposal, one man said, "Reports from other cities where parking meters have been installed indicate that traffic congestion has been reduced and that parking space is therefore available for transient and rural shoppers in the business district."

Another "Yes" — "I believe a greater number of the citizens, of our city and community will have more satisfactory parking privileges. Would favor a meter that will allow a 10 to 15-minute parking at a cost of 1 cent; up to an hour, 5 cents."

One man voting "No" said, "I would favor cutting down the parking limit to one-half hour on State st. Anyone who needs to park longer should park off a street as busy as State st. is, and I would favor enforcing the limit. The real solution is in detouring through traffic around the business district as was suggested last summer."

"Yes, by all means," writes another man, saying, "Stop the selfish practice of allowing people to use their car as a portable grandstand for hours at a time, to gape at passersby and thus prevent legitimate shoppers from using the best space in the shopping district, especially on Saturday nights. Revise the parking laws so that this practice will be abolished."

Yes—"Studies in other comparable cities indicate that parking meters, in a large measure, solve parking problems. Meters can be obtained on a self-paying trial basis, involving no outlay of municipal funds. Meters, once installed, appear to meet with general public favor, and, as demonstrated elsewhere, they would provide a new source of revenue for the city."

Yes—"Meters have proven satisfactory almost everywhere and will be a good investment for the city."

ASK STREET WORK

Committee Indicates Depot Will Be Next On List

The ordinance granting the Ohio Edison Co. a 25-year operating franchise was given its second reading by city council Tuesday evening. Final passage probably will be voted at the next regular meeting.

Under the terms of the franchise the power company agrees to furnish, free, all current used in lighting the city hall and offers a slight reduction to the city in rates for street lighting which is expected to yield an $800 saving.

Council received two more petitions for street improvements under the WPA blanket project. The paving of Liberty st., between Newgarden ave. and the corporation limits, was requested by 20 property owners, while 29 persons signed for the improvement of W. Eighth st.

Depot Street Next
With work already in progress in the paving of W. Fifth st. and Prospect st., council's streets, alleys and sidewalks committee indicated that Depot st. would be next on the improvement list.

The solons received a communication from J. V. Emery, plant engineer for the Mullins Corp., expressing appreciation of council's intent to go ahead with the Depot st. job.

Service Director Frank Wilson reported that work had been speeded on the Fifth st. job by the use of additional curb forms. Grading work was reported in progress on Prospect st.

The service director was instructed by council to install a water line on Mound st., and to extend the water line on Prospect to the corporation limits before the street is paved.

A group of Arch st. residents appeared before council to request the installation of a sanitary sewer. The matter was referred to the sewer committee.

THOMAS TO HEAD
AUTO WORKERS

New A. U. W. Chieftain, Detroit, Once Worked in Industrial Plants in East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, April 5.—Roland J. Thomas of Detroit, elected international president of the United Automobile Workers union at Cleveland Tuesday, is a former East Palestine man.

Local residents recall Thomas as a young man who worked in an industrial plant here many years ago. He left East Palestine when in his early "twenties."

Thomas, choice of CIO leaders to lead the union, received 1,233 votes of a total of 1,696. He was presented to the auto workers convention as a rank and file working man who "belongs to no faction, plays no politics and still carries a package of chewing tobacco on his hip."

New Light Contract
Sought In Village

COLUMBIANA, April 5.—Charles E. Keller appeared before council last night at city hall asking that the city erect an additional street lamp at the north end of Elm st. Council will authorize the board of public affairs to take care of this matter.

An ordinance was passed for the black topping of Vine st. and Friend and James st. A contract was submitted by the Ohio Edison company for the furnishing of electricity. No action was taken. No date was set for the annual spring clean-up, which will be early in May.

SMALL DOSES

It's one of the characteristics of Uncle Sam's children that they think congress, their patent political remedy for everything, should be taken in small doses.

For the past several weeks Washington observers have been reporting a desire centering in and about the White House to get congress adjourned as quickly as possible.

To the extent that such a desire may be put into effect it reflects the Roosevelt administration's inability to get along with the cautious and critical legislative attitude which jelled after last November's election. Administration opponents, of course, are happy. Congress is popular with them.

Previously in the New Deal it was the other way around. The administration wanted congress to be happy in Washington and gave it plenty to do. The cue for getting out of town had to be supplied by congressmen, themselves, with the aid of New Deal critics who calculated that the sooner the meeting broke up the less damage would be done.

Some time there may be a congressional session which will please everybody. Old hands in the house and senate wouldn't know how to act if someone weren't looking pointedly at the clock and handing them their hats.

WHITE AND BLACK WASH

The clean bill of health given TVA by a majority of the special congressional committee under Sen. Donahay is not too convincing. If it is charged that the dissenting minority, which found many things wrong, was trying to throw mud, it must be granted that the majority was equally interested in whitewash.

Taxpayers footing the bill for TVA to the tune of half a billion dollars doubt that this agency also is equipped with perfection. It's not in the cards. They doubt, also, that it's an utter failure. That's not in the cards either.

Their common sense tells them that an impartial study of this significant experiment with the corporate state would resemble neither the majority nor minority report made by the congressional committee. Their common sense further advises them that they have not had the benefit of an impartial study, which happens to be one of the conspicuous weaknesses of government as a substitute for private enterprise.

Private enterprise can be investigated by government with a theoretical chance of impartiality. When government investigates itself, the odds are too lopsided to be worth considering.

PUDDING IN THE EATING

Map changers aren't the only ones carving out ambitions. An airplane flew from Bermuda to the United States this week with 60 passengers—a new record.

This ship's better known mate, the Yankee Clipper, recently was flown without mishap from Baltimore to Lisbon, Portugal, via the Azores.

Pan-American Airways, operators, will make 10 round trips over this route during the summer of 1940 if trial flights this year are successful.

Though the project is subsidized heavily and still will entail deficit operation, it is not a stunt. It is the hard-headed commercial trial of the dream of bridging the Atlantic by air in competition with surface ships—an attempt to create a more convenient mode of travel.

There is, refreshingly, little military importance in the experiments. There still are uses for airplanes and aviators besides the conveying of quick death to civilian populations in cities.

EUPEN AND MALMEDY

Failure of Belgium fascists (Rexistes) to maintain in last Sunday's vote the strength they won in 1936 does not mean German expansion may not claim Eupen and Malmédy, German areas given to Belgium by the Treaty of Versailles. Nor does it mean Belgian fascists will be any less zealous in attempts to weaken the government. Adversity at the polls never discouraged the Nazis.

Insofar as the vote lends itself to interpretation, Belgium's two major parties, the Socialists and Catholics, which control the government by a coalition, increased their combined strength. Moderate Socialist losses were more than offset by Catholic gains. Rexistes lost heavily in both houses.

This seems to indicate that Belgium, whose inhabitants always have been pawns in Europe's game of dividing territory, does not welcome the possibility of becoming part of Greater Germany—a fact which might prove vitally important in event of another German war on the "western front."

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, April 6

DISTURBING and destructive astral forces are preponderant today, influencing sudden change, reckless plunges and other disintegrating activities which are likely to spell disaster. Radical and wayward tendencies may lead to dangers and disaster. Strange episodes and irregular contacts with strangers may be pernicious and of far-reaching detriment. Yet, a latent tendency to strategem, shrewdness, tact and diplomacy may be exercised to save the day from dire or tragic denouements. Look before you leap.

Those whose birthday it is should not be surprised to find themselves engulfed in a year of most unexpected, unpredictable and unusual adventures, with strange experiences and contacts, and a general state of devastating and disturbing situations. These may be dramatic and thrilling, and of far-reaching effect, but will be radical and hazardous. However there is also a definite tendency to use shrewd tactics in out-smarting opposing forces. Jump into nothing without much care and deliberation.

A child born on this day may be a character of wild actions, reckless judgments and hectic impulses, being altogether radical and revolutionary in thought and action. Yet, deep within its makeup it may have subtlety, craft and native proclivities to save its own neck (or face).

A LENTEN THOUGHT

By S. TALMAGE MAGANN,
President, Salem Ministerial Association.

"A DAY OF REST"

Read John 14:23-31
Wednesday of Holy Week has been called "A Day of Rest." It appears that Jesus spent this day in retirement with his disciples in Bethany. It is an unrecorded day, but the fact of rest is a subject to which one should give much thought.

Years ago I read a story which gave two opinions of rest. Two artists were asked to paint a picture illustrating the idea of rest. The first produced a lake hidden among the distant mountains, separated from all human life and activity. The second, a sincere Christian, put on his canvas a thundering waterfall. Nearby was a frail birch tree bending over the foam. In the fork of one of its branches, almost wet with the spray, a robin sat in contentment on its nest.

The second of these pictures helps to reveal Christ's idea of rest. His life was outwardly one of the most troubled the world has ever known. It knew a continuous series of temptations, disappointments, tumult and tempest. His enemies struggled with Him until He was crucified and buried. However, He was unconquerable and failed not in the fulfillment of his mission, because His soul knew a great calm and rest in an abiding source of sustaining strength.

Near the end of His earthly journey He offered this legacy to His disciples—"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

The rest which Jesus knew is freely offered unto all who will accept it. He says, "Come unto Me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." (Matthew 11:28). The new sustaining strength that comes from the fellowship of His presence, gives rest to the soul and enables one to march triumphantly forward, as He did, in the face of all struggles, trials and temptations, regardless of when and how they come.

Prayer: O Father, Thou knowest we live in a weary world, ruffled, disturbed, vexed, displeased and distressed. It is not the kind of world we could have known if all had accepted Jesus, or even if all Christians were true and loyal to Him. Again we repent of our sins and failures and beg for a closer fellowship with Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Science Is Hailed As Real Detective Of Modern Times

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
DR. HARRISON S. MARTLAND, professor of forensic medicine at New York University's College of Medicine, calls our attention to the realities of the methods of detection of murder in our large cities, in contrast to the inspired methods of the detective of fiction, such as Nero Wolfe, Philo Vance and Perry Mason.

Most murders are impetuous, the result of jealousy, revenge or during fights or brawls. In New York

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

363 of the 426 murders in 1935 were either by shooting, stabbing or assaults with the famous "blunt instrument."

From the standpoint of concealment to avoid detection of the crime, these are stupid methods. If violence is evident, as it must be in a shooting, the greatest primary doubt is laid, of course, is whether death came about by natural causes, in poison, a subtler method, there is always a question. Even expert testimony by chemists may leave a jury in doubt.

Easy to Obtain
The frequency of shooting deaths brings up the question of the ease

Herbert Shimer and George Boston left on Monday for the CCC camp.

Pageant Presented
The Trinity Lutheran church was filled to capacity on Sunday evening when a Union Easter pageant, "The Third Day," was given. The "Palms" was sung by Vera and Myrna Davis, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. L. J. Davis.

The characters were represented by Robert Baker, Audrey Herman, Joseph Justice, Harold Rohrer, John Carlisle, Wilma Smith, Jean Vaughn, Joe Woods, Donis Fieldhouse, Charlotte Smith, Johnnie Justice and 20 young girls representing flowers and candles.

Lenten services will be held at Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday and Thursday evening. Sunrise prayer meeting will be held at 6 o'clock Easter morning.

Lenten services are being held at the Methodist church every evening this week.

with which it is possible in America to obtain firearms.

"Detective magazines carry a string of advertisements of cheap revolvers guaranteed to kill," says Dr. Martland. "Mail order houses furnish weapons to any one, old and young, sane or insane, good or bad, without the least difficulty."

In regard to self-defense against this battalion of artillery in the hands of irresponsibles, he says, "Anyone familiar with the present day dangers to innocent persons knows full well that unless a person is trained to shoot and kill on sight, possession of firearms only increases the danger. The average unarmed person is much safer in the presence of a criminal than the armed person untrained to shoot to kill."

Dr. Martland makes a very strong plea for the abolition of the system of the coroner. "A dispassionate study of the office leads one to the inevitable conclusion that it is an institution of government wholly unsuited to the needs of the present day. The coroner does nothing that must not be done over again."

Medical Examiner

The system of the medical examiner should be substituted for that of coroner. There is no such office as coroner in Germany, France, Italy, Russia or the Scandinavian countries.

The medical examiner, as part of the Police Department, is called to all sudden or violent deaths. He has been trained in forensic medicine and methods of crime detection and the law gives him precedence over the police with regard to the body of the victim and its surroundings. The viewing of the body at the place of death is very important and the medical examiner on arrival at the scene can give orders which take precedence over all other individuals or agencies, and until he has taken possession of such objects as he deems necessary no one, not even the police, may take charge or remove the body or any object whatever.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. C. H.: "Please let me know your views and ideas on what is known as the 'ambulant treatment'." Answer — "Ambulant treatment" simply means treatment while the patient is not in bed. There is an ambulant treatment for nearly everything.

KIT CARSON—Avenger!

by EVELYN WELLS

CHAPTER XX

They met, as Kit had foretold, bands of Sioux, the war paint crusted on their skeleton faces. They found the skeletons of horses eaten by Indians, and the bones of Indians picked clean by wolves. In that barren land the Fremont men also faced hunger. Their animals were gaunt. In desperation they killed and ate their mules. Until the low foothills of the Rockies appeared and Kit led them between two concealing hills into the hidden ascent that was South Pass.

This was Kit's own country, familiar as the back of his hand. Hungry, without sufficient supplies, they climbed granite passes untouched save by wild goat and grizzly, over sheer precipices one thousand feet above key rivers, up granite walls and ridges and rocks that seemed to pierce the darkling sky.

It was August, 1842, but high in these snow-tipped Rockies it was winter.

On the fourteenth Kit climbed alone up a gigantic peak. Beyond, a thousand feet above him still, towered another peak, the highest in the Rockies, the peak they had crossed half the continent to find.

On the following day, August the fifteenth, Fremont with a half-dozen followers climbed this highest peak.

Under them, lay America. One thousand feet below them the snow, around them like white waves frozen, were the Alps-like Rockies.

The barometer stood at forty-four degrees below zero as John Charles Fremont unfurled the flag with the thirteen stripes and the American Eagle he had brought from the East and raised it, "where no flag had ever flown before," upon the highest pinnacle in the Rockies, to be called in his name, Mount Fremont.

It was perhaps—the greatest moment of Fremont's life. But Kit was not with Fremont then. Trust was still cold between Fremont and Carson, and Kit, denied this triumphant moment, was trudging somewhere in the snowy passes far below, having been sent back to camp with the mules.

Kit stood in the small Plaza of Taos and looked contentedly about him. The old pueblo appeared, as it always had to Kit, like a dream. The winter sun—it was the beginning of 1843—shimmered over the fat terraced dwellings of Indians and Mexicans in unbroken planes of light, and over the subtly-colored plain of Taos valley, and the snowy, sacred mountain rising beyond.

A little later, Father Antonio Jose Martinez wrote their names together in the leather-bound book of marriage—wrote the words: "Married, on the sixth day of February, 1843, Cristoforo Carson and Josefa Jaramillo."

George Bent was one of the four witnesses who signed their names to the register. The Bent brothers, long Kit's closest friends, were now his brothers.

It seemed to Kit, preparing a home for his bride in Taos, that he had all means of happiness save one thing. That was the presence of Adaline, the little daughter he

Mrs. Bent. Kit's hostess laughed merrily. "You do not remember my little sister? But no, Josefa was a baby when you went away." A babe? She had been baptized the very week Kit rode, an eager boy, out of Taos with the beaver hunters of Ewing Young. Slim and rounded now, dark-eyed and lustily beautiful, Josefa was scarce fifteen. And Kit—who had known marriage and parenthood and bereavement—found his tongue tied before such beauty. Love was instantaneous and binding, like a sunset over dream-like Taos. He loved her at that moment as he would love her always.

For Josefa Jaramillo, we are assured by every historian, held that rare glamor found occasionally in the early Latin West. Lewis Garza, seeing her in Taos four years later, would write that her beauty was of the haughty, heart-breaking kind, such as would lead a man with a glance to risk his life for one smile.

Poor Kit had no such words to describe her. But had Fremont not written of him as "the finest figure of a man on horseback ever seen?" Kit, too, was not without glamor. What happened in that moment was as inevitable as life.

In that very moment, she confessed later, standing in that low-ceiled adobe room where serapes and holy images decked the white-washed walls, Josefa capitulated—She was Kit's. But being the beauty she was, celebrated in her small desert world, and being on her father's side a Jaramillo, and on her mother's a Vigil, both leading families of the region, she was in the beginning stubborn.

In vain did her sister argue. "You torment him too much, my sister. Kit is good, and his feelings are easily wounded. He will go back to the Fort to hunt again and he will not return to Taos. Then you may weep all you like—I will not console you."

Josefa pouted. She smoothed her black hair blacker still with almond oil. She set a high comb in it, and wore little slippers with low red heels and danced with every other man than Kit in the fandangoes. And at last, scolded by her brother-in-law, Charles Bent, to whom Kit was a model of western men, she could only say, driven: "For one thing—we have not the same religion."

In the old adobe church in Taos the shadow of which serves as town clock for the citizens, Kit Carson, in his fringed buckskin, and with candlelight falling on his long tawny hair, was solemnly baptized. A little later, Father Antonio Jose Martinez wrote their names together in the leather-bound book of marriage—wrote the words:

"Married, on the sixth day of February, 1843, Cristoforo Carson and Josefa Jaramillo." George Bent was one of the four witnesses who signed their names to the register. The Bent brothers, long Kit's closest friends, were now his brothers.

It seemed to Kit, preparing a home for his bride in Taos, that he had all means of happiness save one thing. That was the presence of Adaline, the little daughter he

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or over-exercised, your stomach often pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Before you enter take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-u-lax for indigestion to make the excess stomach acids harmless. Bell-u-lax acts in no time and puts you back on your feet. Bell-u-lax is so quick it's amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-u-lax for indigestion.

had left in a convent at St. Louis. He planned. "Some day, Chipita, she will join us. You will love her." Josefa—Chipita, as Kit fondly called her—was accustomed to large families and large hospitalities, and looked forward to having with her some day the small symbol of Kit's love for a girl who had worn warm-pump in her shining braids, who had been to him, for a few short seasons in the wilderness, his entire existence.

He had been happy then. Older now, more serious, he was happy again. He selected fine serapes to pile in colorful array in the adobe he bought for Josefa. He adored her, this young wife of the "heart-breaking beauty."

Thousands of miles away, another woman, fair as a dream in her full-skirted, tight-bodied purple velvet gown, sat on a small hassock before a fire, by a tea table glowing with fine silver. Pencil in hand, Jessie Benton Fremont turned her glowing young face up to her husband's, and said with an enchanting smile: "Now, tell me all that happened, my husband."

So John Charles Fremont told of his travels in the Far West with Kit Carson, and Jessie, his wife, writing down the exciting tale, did not know that with the burning words she was writing Kit's dreams of peace away.

Fremont—dictating the story of his great adventure—remembered Carson. He remembered Kit's staunch loyalty, his daring, his calm way of riding into tremendous danger, caring for the safety of others, never his own. Fremont's voice thrilled when he said to his wife, the beautiful Jessie: "Kit Carson and truth are one. If you could but meet him!"

"I love him already," replied that great hearted young woman. Fair she was, frivolous seeming, but senators and diplomats hung on her words in Washington. "Because of his loyalty to you."

MacDowell's Works Are Presented

With the exception of two special numbers, the program enjoyed by Junior Music Study club members at the home of Miss Janet Green-eisen on the Georgetown rd., Tuesday evening, included works of MacDowell, composer.

The special features were: A song, "By a Lonely Forest Pathway" (Griffen), by Miss Margaret Fronius, the vocal number which won her a superior rating in district music contests recently at Muskingum college; and a vocal number, "A Dream" (Bartlett) Al. J. Freed.

Miss Fronius was accompanied at the piano by Miss Geraldine Fickes. The remainder of the program concerned the composer MacDowell and his work. Dixon Yates presented a paper on "The Peterborough Colony," a settlement where all sorts of artists study, receive instruction and work, founded by the wife of the composer.

Open forum discussion of the subject of the paper was held with the club members participating.

Other musical numbers, using all MacDowell compositions, were: Piano duet, "To a Wild Rose" and "At an Old Trysting-Place"; Ruth Alice Stout and Cleo Santee; vocal selection, "The Robin Sings in the Apple Tree"; Ruth West, playing her own accompaniment.

Piano solo, "Scotch Poem"; Etlie Sharp; clarinet numbers, "From an Indian Lodge" and "Chorale"; Betty England; choral number, "To a Wild Rose," all members of the club who had not appeared on the evening's program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her associate, Miss Ada Shriver.

The next meeting will be held April 18, the place to be announced.

Arrange Program For Guest Day

Plans for the club's annual guest day observance were completed at a meeting of the Musical Culture club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Barbara Williams, South Lincoln ave.

The observance will be a dinner and theater party in Youngstown, Thursday, April 13. The dinner will be served at 7 p. m. in the Tudor House. Members will meet at the home of the club advisor, Mrs. L. D. Cessna, on South Lincoln ave., not later than 6:30. Transportation will be in charge of Leroy Moss, Marjorie Layden, Lucia Sharp and Betty Roose.

Twenty-six members enjoyed the program which featured a musical quiz from the junior bulletin of the national federation paper, conducted by Joseph Morris; and a musical melodrama, by Vivian Foitz, reader, Betty Roose, Leroy Moss, Robert Vickers, William Wark and Martha Clark, accompanist.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The club will meet April 18 at the home of Miss Geraldine Fickes, West State st.

Initiation Planned By Sorority

Plans for formal initiation of new members later this month were discussed at a meeting of the Omega Nu Tau sorority last night in the Memorial building.

Miss Mary Haldeman is general chairman of the committee in charge which includes Miss Winifred Ospeck, president of the chapter, Helen Papesch and Alleen Hertz.

A meeting to arrange details of the initiation affairs will be held Monday night at the home of Miss Haldeman on South Lincoln ave.

The chapter will begin the furnishing of a room at the hospital this week, the work to be directed by Mrs. Russell Hainan and Miss Mary Hahn.

The special meeting of the sorority is scheduled for the third week of this month.

Will Attend Rites In Alliance

The Elks auxiliary completed plans at their meeting last night in the lodge home to participate in initiation ceremonies at Alliance on April 17. The local members will be guests of the Alliance lodgemen at that time.

Following the meeting members played bingo.

The next session will be held April 18.

Patrick Carey of Minnesota, formerly of Leetonia, is visiting

Theater Attractions

The power and sincerity of a magnificent portrayal by Wallace Beery, the camera magic of Director Josef von Sternberg, the crackling action with which he has infused his film, and a group of inspired performances by a trio of young secondary leads make "Sergeant Madden" showing Thursday through Saturday at the State, memorable and thrilling entertainment.

Seen As Veteran Cop

Story of the New York police, "Sergeant Madden" presents Beery in the title role as a 30-year veteran of the force. He is that Irish cop to the life. His despair is his son, Dennis, played by Alan Curtis, a hotheaded young "smart guy" who knows a quicker way to success than his father's plodding methods, but runs afoul of the law and becomes a snarling, defiant criminal. Curtis, as a result of his work, becomes the season's finest young "menace".

Laraine Johnson, as the adopted daughter who marries Curtis, and Tom Brown as the adopted son torn between loyalty to his father and his idolization of his foster-brother, stand right beside Curtis in sincerity and convincingness, while memorable work in featured parts is turned in by such players as Fay Holden, Marc Lawrence, Marion Martin, David Gorrey, Donald Haines, Ben Welden and Elta McDaniel.

Plenty of Suspense

The story is permeated with suspense from start to finish, rising to a climax when Curtis, a fugitive from justice, dares to visit his wife and new-born son in a New York hospital while Beery waits outside to take him bare-handed.

Concluding tonight at the State is "St. Louis Blues," featuring Dorothy Lamour, Lloyd Nolan, Tito Guizar, Maxine Sullivan and others.

Ten Chief Causes of Traffic Accidents in SALEM

No. 7, "Improper Turns" . . .

With a burst of speed, the sedan (marked by arrow) forges ahead of the other cars to turn left, even though in the wrong lane for such a maneuver. Coming from the opposite direction the coupe (marked by X) also gets off fast.

It's a race, with the sedan's driver determined not to be held up in making his turn by the flow of traffic from the other way and the coupe's operator expecting clear sailing.

Complications develop, though, before either driver achieves his goal. The sedan picks up more speed in a desperate attempt to avoid what seems destined to be a certain crash and the coupe's brakes scream.

And this is the result — the sedan overturned and the coupe wrecked. What about the drivers?

"I Swung Out to Pass"

The shadow of the huge truck we were trailing was pleasant, but I swung out to pass and met the full glare of the sun. Fortunately my glasses were made to absorb glare for I saw the approaching car instantly and was able to duck back behind the truck in time to prevent a terrible accident. You bet I was glad I had just recently had my eyes examined and been fitted with the new glasses! . . . You, too, should stop in for a consultation.

Be watchful for stop signs and signals. Observe them by coming to a complete stop. Failure to do so is an important cause of accidental death and injury. Regardless of whether the road seems clear of traffic, play fair with the officials — and with yourself, too — by obeying the traffic laws. BEARINGS ARE OFTEN LEFT GO FOR TOO LONG A TIME!

Automobile manufacturers recommend that front wheel bearings be checked and re-packed every 5,000 to 6,000 miles. Worn bearings cause the wheel to be out of line and wear brake linings, causing faulty brakes and often wheel grabbing (the cause of many accidents).

Wheel bearings are often left too long—let us check them for you! Take the advice of your car manufacturer. We have the facilities to check them thoroughly. When were your wheels checked last?

CHICO AWAITS FIRST CHANCE AT CHALLENGED

Promising Three-Year Olds To Meet In Derby Race

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, April 5.—The little red-headed stepper and the big brunette are going to look each other in the eye for the first time in the Kentucky derby, and the racing faithful can hardly wait even those who aren't holding tight to a two-dollar win ticket.

The one is El Chico, small chestnut son of John P. Grier-La Chica, which breezed in with seven straight victories in his two-year-old campaigning, for a money winning total of $84,100. The other is the dark bay Maryland-bred Chaledon, which cleaned up $67,700 in six 1938 starts, winning four.

Paths Differ
Their paths never crossed, simply because William Ziegler, Jr., after picking up Chico for $2,700, didn't think he was big enough for nomination to such stakes as the Pimlico, New England and Maryland futurities, all of which Chaledon won.

The winter boys, naturally, rate Chico the favorite at 4 to 1, primarily off his two-year-old record, with Chaledon hooked up with Technician and Johnnie at ten.

In one respect, the two are alike. Both like to run almost as much as they like to find oats in the barn. Chico had little difficulty disposing of most of the other two-year-olds last year, doing all his running with Nick Wall up. He ran into some slight difficulty only in the junior championship, when he came on to whip Volant.

Chaledon started off the season well. He ran twelfth in the Eastern States handicap, but once George Seabo replaced O. Laidley in the saddle, he finished up with three straight victories, two of them at distances over a mile. Chico's longest tests were at 6 1/2 furlongs.

For that reason, many horsemen believe the W. L. Brann bay, with actual route-going experience, will have something on Chico when they go to the post in the derby mile and a quarter. Chaledon, however, had considerable of a "break" from the handicappers. He was asked to carry as much as 119 pounds only once, while Chico, after making his debut, never went out with less than 122 pounds aboard.

Winter Well
Neither horse has had a three-year old outing yet. Both have been in winter quarters. Chico under the watchful eye of the pleasant Irish veteran, Matt Brady, at Belmont park, and Chaledon at the old Benning track near Washington, with likable ex-Jockey Lou Schaefer as trainer.

Both wintered splendidly, adding weight and size. Chico picked up 100 pounds, but is still just a little fellow with a red mane.

"But he's the running-est horse you ever did see," Brady tells you. "Don't worry about his size. Remember, War Admiral was no elephant at the downs two years ago."

Looking at it from the viewpoint of speed and endurance, those two factors so vital in a derby hopeful, both have been bred along requisite lines. Chico's dam, La Chica, was a fast little lady from the durable Ben Brush line. The sire, John P. Grier, is remembered as the only horse ever to stretch the neck of an O'War. Challenger II, Chaledon's daddy, was a potentially great horse until he was injured. He never returned to winning form, but has enjoyed considerable success in stud. Laura Gal, the dam, is by the great Sir Galahad III.

Chico will get his derby "prep" in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, and Chaledon goes in the Chesapeake at Havre De Grace. Chico probably will be hooked up with a stablemate, either the funny-looking Our Mat, Time Sheet or Substantial, as a derby entry.

Two Grate Leagues Complete Schedule

Completion of the 1938-39 schedules of two leagues leaves the Grate Recreation bowling alleys open on Tuesday and Friday nights for public bowling. E. L. Grate, owner, announced today.

Three leagues at the Grate alleys have yet to finish their seasons. They are: the Quaker City on Monday night, the Pastime on Wednesday night and the Commercial on Thursday night.

BOWLING NEWS

The National league completed its 1938-39 schedule at Masonic temple alleys last night, but the season's championship remains undecided, pending the bowling of two postponed matches.

The Salem News, defending champion, and Kelly's Service are tied for first place with similar records of 55 wins and 23 losses. Both of the leaders have postponed matches to roll before finishing up for the season, the News against Whitehead Products and Kelly's against Bloomberg's.

If the two leaders each win three games in their postponed matches, a roll-off series to decide the championship will be necessary.

The News was idle last night while Kelly's moved into a tie for first place by taking three games from the Metzger Hotel. Other matches gave Fitzpatrick & Strain three games over the Masons and the Moose two wins over Bloomberg's.

In a duck pin match at the Grate Recreation alleys, a team representing Local No. 42, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, won three games from Sheen's Super Service.

GIANT-DODGER RIVALRY GETS NEW IMPETUS

Drafting of Red Evans by Dodgers Adds Coals To Fire

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.
NEW YORK, April 5.—The latest chunk of dynamite to get mixed up in the generally explosive relations between the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants is Russell "Red" Evans, a 30-year-old right-hander who acts like a walking advertisement for his home town—Energy, Illinois.

Any mention of this red-head around either camp produces much the same result—but with reverse English—as Bill Terry's famous query a few years back as to whether the Dodgers still were in the league. If Evans goes as well during the regular season as he has this spring, Secretary Eddie Branch of the Giants probably will begin ducking every time he sees a telegraph messenger for fear it's another ribbing wire, sent collect, from his enemy John McDonald of Brooklyn.

Giant Boner
For Evans, who did a great job of hurling for New Orleans last summer, became Brooklyn property for the exceedingly low price of $7,500 because of a Giant boner. Bill Terry purchased him from the Pelicans for about $5,000 more than that last fall and sent him to the Giants' No. 1 farm team at Jersey City. But he neglected to put Evans on the New York reserve list, thus leaving him eligible for the draft. Last winter the Dodgers grabbed him up by the draft route, disregarding some of not especially subtle murmurs of "robbery" and "Brooklyn ethics."

Now if Red can only knock out the Giants a few times next summer, everything will be practically perfect from the Flatbush viewpoint. And so far there's no indication that he can't do it. He has pitched 17 innings in the Grapefruit league and 16 of them have been scoreless. He gave the Reds three runs in one inning of his second game. On Monday he blanked Washington for seven innings with six hits.

Good Record
Behind that performance is a record of some eight years of minor league hurling. He got a trial with the Chicago White Sox after a good 1935 season with Oklahoma City, but failed to make the grade. Last year he won 21 games and lost 14 with the weak New Orleans club and compiled an earned run average of 2.33. That won him the nomination as the Southern association's most valuable player.

Evans has a fair curve, an effective screwball and plenty of control. He's a noisy, enthusiastic sort of guy who refuses to be downed by anything. Even Coach Chuck Dressen, a notorious collector of "goats," admits he couldn't disturb Evans.

RAMBLERS EVEN HOCKEY SERIES

Philadelphia Icers Top Cleveland Barons By 5 to 4 Score

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—Still thinking from their bruising marathon in the arena, the Cleveland Barons and Philadelphia Ramblers today shifted their scramble for the International-American league hockey championship to Cleveland.

In three extra periods and before 5,000 ecstatic fans, the Ramblers evened the best-of-five series last night with a 5 to 4 win.

The Barons won the first playoff game. The next two contests will be played at Cleveland. A fifth game, if necessary, would be played here.

It was Joe Krol who gave the Ramblers the winning tally. Taking a pass from Lude Wareing, he drilled the puck past Moe Roberts, Cleveland goalie.

The 4-4 deadlock was broken in 4:48 of the second "sudden death" period.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Various Spots

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, April 5.—First nomination for the AP's 1940 All-American: Jim Blumenstock, Fordham back Tackle (Kind) Herman, who has trained 'em both, says Max Baer will kazo 'Lou Nova..... Today's puzzler: Name two guys you think could beat Ralph Guldahl and Sam Snead in a best ball match..... Oregon U's championship basketball team will be invited back into the Garden next winter.

You Tell 'em, Sam
Sam Taub broadcasting (Day vs. Armstrong): "x x x the boys are mauling each other at long range—what the experts call in-fighting x x x."

New York Sun says not to be surprised if Louis is 1 to 100 against Galento..... But it was before Tony built up a lot of good will by cancelling his stage appearances..... Clevel's Castleman is languishing in the Giant doghouse.

That pre-view of Van Mungo Monday didn't reveal anything to write home about.....

Extra Added Attraction
Breakfast will be served at Churchhill Downs at noon on derby day for only $2.50 per head..... "But this," volunteers Nixon Denton in the Cincinnati Times-Star, "includes a brief introduction to Col. Mat Winn."

Harry Voller has gone to Beaumont to try to sign Al McCoy to fight Bob Pastor in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Sunday, May 28..... Those at the Augusta ringside say Bobby Jones' tee shots were roaring as of yore, but his putting was very, very sad..... George Blake, one of the best in the biz, is the popular choice to referee Louis vs. Roper..... Eddie Brink stopped Tony Canzoneri's comeback cold, but has turned down a return match..... Why?

Today's Guest Star
Bob Ray, Los Angeles Times: "Jack Roper received this letter from a friend: 'I've got around $25 saved up and if you send me $53, I'll have enough to come up and see the fight.'"

Quickies: New York U. has selected U. of Georgia as its world's fair football opponent..... The Giants may break away from the Indians and barnstorm with the Red Sox next spring..... Red Farmer is doing a swell job broadcasting Dodger games and Flatbush fans will be happy if the team can do half as well.

COLLEGES, HIGH SCHOOLS BOOST BASEBALL PLAY

Diamond Sport Racing to New Peak, Fonseca Declares

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, April 5.—College and high school baseball is racing up the comeback trail toward a new and prominent place in the national game.

Authority for that statement is Lew Fonseca, one-time Chicago White Sox manager and now promotional director for the American league. Since 1934 he's been promoting the sport, largely through the league's annual motion picture, and he reports that one of the most pleasant aspects of his job has been a first hand view of the strides which the college and prep school game has made in the last three years.

Had Tough Time
"Only a few years ago," Fonseca said today, "a majority of colleges merely tolerated baseball as just another sport. In 1934, when this office was created, we had difficulty convincing many school authorities that we sincerely desired to help college baseball—that we weren't coming around just to scout or sign up outstanding youngsters."

"Now it's a far different story. Colleges in every state are flooding us with requests for showings of years ago only about 350 colleges prep their teams and asking us to sponsor clinics with their teams. Two of the country sponsored baseball as a major sport. It will be a major sport in 421 colleges and universities this season."

"One high school after another now is sponsoring ball teams for the first time in years."

Bigger Than Football
"There will be some 560 high school baseball teams in Michigan this year, compared with 450 in 1934. In the Iowa state tournament alone, 700 teams will compete."

Fonseca expressed the opinion that during the last three years almost 50 per cent of the American league's rookie material came from colleges and universities. Never before, he said, has baseball produced so many young stars such as Joe DiMaggio, Bob Feller, Johnny Vander Meer and Frank McCormick. He believes the steady increase in the popularity of college and high school baseball will keep talented boys coming into the major leagues.

TREAT BARTELL FOR BAD ANKLE

Chicago Cubs Shortstop Ordered To Hospital In Chicago

CHICAGO, April 5.—Shortstop Dick Bartell was ordered to a hospital for observation Tuesday after Dr. John P. Davis, Chicago Cubs team physician, failed to find evidence of rheumatism in the star athlete's ailing left ankle.

Bartell, the Cubs' current number one question mark, arrived here from Phoenix, Ariz., and was put through an exhaustive examination. Dr. Davis said: "There is a traumatic injury to the left ankle. It has left a condition in which some fluid is in the joint."

"There is no rheumatism in the joint," he elaborated, "and the ankle is thoroughly free from arthritic deposits and arthritis symptoms."

The diagnosis, which sounded an optimistic note, failed to cause elation in Bartell. He was too bothered over being away from the Cubs—"a swell gang of great ball players"—to say much.

"I sure hope it comes out all right," he said. "I'm just going to do exactly as the doctor thinks best. I've got to be in there when the season starts."

Bargains are plentiful. The ads. will tell you where.

Althouse Motors Compile Impressive Cage Record

Salem Team, Managed by Sammy Drakulich, Won 45 of 54 Games During Past Season

A record of 45 victories in 54 games during the 1938-39 basketball season has established the Althouse Motors of Salem as one of the leading independent cage teams in the district.

Manager by dynamic little Sammy Drakulich, the Motors have compiled an impressive record, winning two league championships and finishing among the leaders in a number of tournaments.

They captured the Salem Class A league championship, the Inter-City league title at East Palestine and won consolation honors in the Boardman and Little City tournaments. They also competed in Sebring, Hubbard and Tri-State tournaments, playing under a different team name.

The Motors rolled through 14 games undefeated to annex the city Class A championship. They went undefeated in seven games to win the Inter-City title at East Palestine.

Bob Jeffries, city Class A scoring champion, was the Salem team's individual star throughout the season, scoring 625 points. Drakulich was second high in individual scoring with 438 points followed by Gordy Scullion with 395 and Earl Zelle with 350.

The Motors outclassed a big majority of their opponents to tally 2,273 points in 54 games for an average of about 42 points a game. They held their foes to 1,539 points for defensive average of 29 points a game.

The Youngstown Sheet & Tube proved the biggest headache to the Motors, defeating them by one point in the semi-finals of the Boardman tournament and again in the Tri-State tourney.

In addition to their regularly scheduled engagements, the Motors played practice games against Mount Union college varsity and freshmen quintets, winning one out of four tilts.

Myers Looks Good
COLUMBIA, S. C. — Cincinnati fans, who have made a habit of giving the raspberry to Shortstop Billy Myers, will have to revise their opinion of him if he keeps up the burning pace he has set during the training season. He smacked a homer, double and two singles against the Boston Red Sox yesterday. Lefty Grove, who set nine Reds down in order in his first "grapefruit" start a week ago, was the choice of Boston's Joe Mott to check the Red Sox slugging today. Bill McKechnie called on Gene Thompson and Lee Grissom.

Roots For Lou
DALLAS, Tex.—Outfielder Tommy Henrich, who has been filling in for Lou Gehrig at first base for the Yankees, is hoping Lou has a good year. "I'd rather play the outfield," he explains. "I think I can hold my own out there, but I don't mind myself about being a finished first baseman. The position is new to me."

Harder Returns
Mobile, Ala.—Mel Harder, who has cancelled two pitching assignments for the Cleveland Indians because of an aching shoulder, has announced he's ready to start today against Mobile's Southeastern league club. He blamed the ache on a cold which settled in the shoulder.

Training Camp Briefs

BATON ROUGE, La., April 5.—Johnny Wittig, the young hurler from Baltimore, must learn to be a little more deceitful if he is to stick with the New York Giants. Wittig has plenty of "stuff" and has no difficulty finding the center of the plate, but he does it too often and shows by his action what he's going to throw.

Blanton In Opener
SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Red-haired Cy Blanton appears to have won the honor of pitching the Pirates' opening game against Cincinnati for the third consecutive year. In 21 innings of the flinging this spring he has allowed only six runs, two unearned, and he fanned four St. Louis Browns in seven innings yesterday.

Harder Returns
Mobile, Ala.—Mel Harder, who has cancelled two pitching assignments for the Cleveland Indians because of an aching shoulder, has announced he's ready to start today against Mobile's Southeastern league club. He blamed the ache on a cold which settled in the shoulder.

EUROPEAN WAR FORCES LISTED

"Stop Hitler" Bloc Best On Land, Sea; Rome-Berlin In Air

Latest available official data—subject to revision almost daily because of sudden moves on the European military checker-board—give this picture of the relative strength in land forces:

GREAT BRITAIN, exclusive of dominions—208,500 men under arms, 573,500 including trained reserves.
FRANCE—725,000 active, 6,025,000 including reserves.
POLAND—266,000 active, 1,713,000 including reserves.
GERMANY—930,000 active, 4,080,000 including reserves.
ITALY—917,000 active, 7,412,000 including reserves.

Czechs Broken Up
The break-up of Czechoslovakia disbanded a trained army of 25,000 and disarmed most of an actual reserve force of 1,685,000. They represented a loss of some 35 well-equipped divisions to a "Stop Hitler" combination, along with the famous Skoda munitions plant.

HUNGARY, a possible Rome-Berlin ally, is credited with 50,000 men under arms, and an additional 650,000 reserves.

The land forces of other powers include:

SOVIET RUSSIA—1,500,000 active army, possibly 18,000,000 trained reserves.
ROMANIA—212,000 active; 1,828,000 including reserves.
JAPAN—1,500,000 or more under arms pressing the conflict with China and guarding the Siberian border, plus 4,748,000 reserves.

By comparison, the United States has some 185,000 men in its active army, and reserve forces of about 313,000, including the national guard.

Add to Air Corps
President Roosevelt's $552,000,000 arms expansion program will add about 40,000 men to the regular army, mostly in the air corps.

At sea, Great Britain and France have warship tonnage of 2,842,000, compared with 1,180,000 for Germany and Italy.

The United States navy's latest revised comparative figures credit Japan with 898,691 warship tonnage. The American navy's total is 1,407,945, including vessels over-age and out of commission.

Aerial strength is the most difficult to measure, because of the attendant secrecy and the complex factor of production capacity which would determine prompt replacement of wartime losses.

By one authoritative estimate, Germany and Italy could put at least 12,500 warplanes into the air immediately, compared to 7,700 British and French modern craft.

By mid-1941 the United States army expects to have some 6,000 planes, including more than 3,000 ready for combat, and the navy expects up to 350 or more planes a month, compared with 1,000 for Germany. American output is expected to reach 500 a month in two years. France's production, now only about 100 planes monthly, is increasing.

Home Near Canfield Destroyed by Fire

Fire destroyed the eight-room frame home of Noah Loveland, south of Canfield, at 2 p. m. Monday.

Canfield firemen, by upsetting a corn crib and carefully fighting the flames, were able to save the outbuildings. Damage was estimated at approximately $7,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Loveland were in Youngstown when the fire broke out. Mr. Loveland was serving on a jury.

A neighbor, Mrs. Fusek, was taking care of the little Loveland girl who was ill. They smelled smoke, and when they opened the door leading to the upstairs, found that the entire second floor was aflame. The cause of the fire is still undetermined.

PUBLIC DIVIDES ON CAR METERS

Council Committee Directed To Continue Investigation

Yes—"Only on condition that ample free parking space is provided within two blocks of parking meter area."

No—"I believe free parking on State st. is abused."

No—"I feel that in so small a town they would prevent many from stopping for small purchases. Also many from outlying districts would object to paying to market their produce. I cannot see where it will help the parking situation and I do not believe it will be a revenue producer as it will require two readers and a mechanic. I have not found anyone favoring its adoption."

Yes—"We feel that our business would increase 20 per cent if we had parking meters. In the summer, I would say we lose about 90 per cent of the tourist business going through."

No—"Parking meters will not bring any new business to Salem but will keep some out that we already have. What we want to do in our town is to do everything possible to make it more attractive for new business. As we make our community more attractive and invite more people here, the result is more business. What we need right now is a good big parking lot as near as possible to the center of town."

No—"I do not favor any plan whereby you have to pay a parking charge to park on a public street."

No—"Meters would drive business away from downtown section."

No—"Believe there is some other way of controlling parking for a city as small as Salem. If you can keep store employees' and office people's cars off the street you will be O. K."

No—"In my opinion it would drive trade to other towns, especially farm trade. Would favor free parking lots in place of meters."

Yes—"Most comments I have heard from other cities, where parking meters are now in operation, have been favorable. However, I believe the combination 1 cent and 5 cent meter is the one that deserves consideration."

Yes—"Believe it best solution of parking problem as too many people abuse present parking regulations. Suggest a survey be made to determine if any vacant lots are available for free parking as it is a civic problem."

No—"We are in too small a town and the customer can drive one or two blocks and get free parking. The farmer will not pay 5 cents to park, yet we need his business. Also would suggest checking cars, six days a week, 52 weeks a year."

No—"What we need is free parking ground."

Yes—"I favor 5 cent and 1 cent meters. I believe they will make it easier for out-of-town customers to trade in our store and keep our own business men's cars off the streets. They have been successful in every town they have been used so far."

No—"It will discourage farmers' trade with local merchants."

No—"I believe the public would highly resent the installation of parking meters on our business streets and that it will not solve the parking problem for the majority of the citizens. Why not let them vote on this sometime."

Yes—"Would favor them only because some merchants persist in parking their cars on the business streets, keeping customers away. Would favor free parking on main streets except for that reason."

Think Salem should have a parking lot or two for the public even if a nominal charge had to be made to keep them in shape. Let's get the fire station off State st., on either Second or Pershing st., fix up our old city hall and have a public rest room on the first floor. The removal of the fire trucks from State st. would help at time of fire."

No—"The town is too small. We have enough trouble getting people to shop in Salem without charging them for parking. Council should make every effort to provide some parking lots."

Here and There About Town

Discuss Convention

After President W. L. Hart appointed C. Russell C. Gibbs chairman of the "on to Cleveland" committee, Gibb conducted a discussion of international conventions at the meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday in the Memorial building. Several past presidents who had attended conventions gave brief reports of them. The next convention of International Rotary will be held in Cleveland in June.

This was an impromptu program hurriedly arranged when Dr. Claude Norris of Youngstown found it impossible to come to Salem to speak before the Rotarians.

The Salem club received an invitation to attend an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs in Alliance Wednesday evening, April 19.

K. T. Easter Observance

Salem commandery, Knights Templar, will observe Easter by attending service at the Methodist church at 11 a. m. Sunday. Dinner will be served at the Masonic temple after the service.

The annual inspection of the commandery will be an event of Friday, April 28, with Paul P. O'Brien as inspecting officer. The commandery will open at 5, recess at 6:30 for dinner and reconvene at 7:30.

Methodist Services

The choir will be heard in a special anthem, "O Saviors of the World", (Goss) at the communion service at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Methodist church. The service, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Carl Asmus, is one of several Holy Week services being held at the church.

The communion topic will be, "What Christians Have Done to Christ."

Hospital Notes

Albert Clotti of 388 Columbia st., and Wilma Lehman of North Lima have entered Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

Arla Jean McBride of R. D. 1, Salem, Phyllis Marie Mumaw of 908 Newgarden ave., and William McKee of Warren had their tonsils removed today in Salem City hospital.

Union Communion Service

Congregations of the Baptist and Christian churches will unite for a union communion service at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Christian church. A candlelight service will be observed and Rev. S. Talmage Magann, Baptist minister, will speak on the topic, "Spiritual Unity."

Enlistments Sought

Enlistment in the regular U. S. army reserves can still be made. Recruiting Officer Joseph O. Dillinger at the Youngstown postoffice building advised Postmaster Beardmore today. Any former regular soldier under 36 years of age is eligible.

Episcopal Services

Services at the Church of Our Saviour tomorrow, Maundy Thursday, will include holy communion, at 7 and 10 a. m., followed in the evening at 7:45, with the office of Tenebrae, with a brief address by the rector, Rev. Ian Robertson.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Talbott of Damascus are the parents of a daughter born last night in Salem City hospital.

Lutheran Service

Rev. George D. Keister will preach on "Mockers" at the Holy week service at 7:30 tonight in the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church. The choir will sing special numbers and there will be a brief instruction on church membership for those who are coming into the church Easter Sunday.

Kiwanis Business Meeting
Kiwanians will hold their monthly business meeting at noon Thursday following luncheon in the Memorial building. Plans for a program by the Mt. Union a capella choir will be outlined.

MRS. MARGARET CLAYTON
WASHINGTONVILLE, April 5.—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Margaret Clayton which occurred last Saturday at her home in Washington, Pa.

Mrs. Laura Parshall of Washingtonville, a daughter, was with her mother at the time of the latter's death.

Motorist Injured
Clement Degan of Youngstown suffered minor lacerations when the car in which he was riding with Raymond Linden, 22, of Youngstown, went into a ditch on Route 224, just east of Canfield, at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.

According to the state patrol, Linden swerved to the ditch to avoid hitting a car ahead of his, driven by Thomas Moore of Salem. Linden preferred a reckless driving charge against Moore.

MRS. EMMA RICHARDS
Salem relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. Mary Emma Richards, 82, which occurred last week at her home in Long Beach, Calif., where she had resided for 35 years. She had been invalid since breaking her hip several years ago.

Mrs. Richards was born in Salem, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fawcett, the family home having been on the corner of Garfield ave. and Fifth st.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Ruth M. Wyckoff of San Pedro, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. Flora Walling of Meadville, Pa., and Miss Nettie Fawcett of Long Beach. Surviving in the west are a nephew, J. Edward Tatem, and two nieces, Muriel and Lois Tatem, all of Bellflower, Calif.

Survivors in Salem are a niece, Mrs. Edward M. Dougher, and two cousins, Lindley Tomlinson and Mrs. W. A. Hawley.

The funeral was held last Friday, with burial in a Long Beach cemetery.

MRS. CHARLES FIFE
ALLIANCE, April 5.—Mrs. Charles Fife died at her home on W. State st., yesterday afternoon following an illness of several weeks. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Homer Laughlin of Millport.

Besides her husband, Charles, she leaves one granddaughter, Jean; a brother, W. J. Laughlin of Hanoverton; three sisters, Mrs. B. W. Grubbs, Mrs. F. G. McKarns of Hanoverton and Mrs. R. M. McPherson of Lisbon.

Funeral service will be held at 2

8:30 p. m. Thursday at the Cassaday and Turkle parlors here, followed by burial in Hanoverton cemetery.
